President's Message

Hanne von Reichow

For those of you who missed the So Nevada Leadership Day Jan 21, it was jammed packed with ideas for getting involved with this year's legislation, and methodology for modernizing our Club communications. Just one highlight included our Secretary of State, AND ARW member, Barbara Cegavske, who spoke about two bills that everyone can get involved with: 1) Assembly Bill, AB-45, will improve our election processes, especially by requiring training for those involved in voter registration and 2) AB73. Assembly Bill 73 revises provisions relating to crimes against children and human trafficking. Do look these up and decide for yourself, who and how you wish to submit your concerns. Elected officials really do want to hear our concerns and the Nevada State Legislature Website is much improved to easily submit your comments.

I know this is a very busy month for everyone, so I will be brief and just say Happy Valentine's Day!

A message from Literacy Chair
Molly Governs

February is a great time on those colder days to stay inside and enjoy reading a good book. ARW's parent organization, the National Federation of Republican Women. Offers a list of books geared to the reading interests of conservatives of all ages. This is the Maimie Eisenhower Library Project (MELP) list of books. To access the current 2016-2017 MELP list simply Google: Mamie Eisenhower Library Project - National Federation of Republican Women. This site gives a history of the MELP list, gives links to the current 4 page PDF list of MELP Books and much more. A recent addition to the MELP site is a weekly featured book from the MELP list complete with a review of the featured book.

Check it out and HAPPY READING!
